BIG ATTRACTION AT PARK SUNDAY

Much interest is being shown in the coming game Sunday between the Chinese and Hawaii teams. The Chinese team is a new aggregation to the public, but many of the players are well known.

The Chinese community believes that its team will give the Hawaii bunch a close call Sunday. The boys have been showing good spirit lately, and are turning out in full force for practice every evening. Captain Asam has about settled his players in their regular positions.

A. Akana, A. Asam, Ah Tin, Kan Yen and Apau, all from the Oahu League teams, will be on the Chinese nine in the special series. V. Ayau will play short instead of Kan Yen, who is holding down the same position on the Star team at present.

The Hawaii bunch is not worrying over the possibility of defeat at the hands of the Chinese on Sunday, but the boys are out doing some hard work in preparation for the Kelo series.

This game and the fifteen-mile race should be a big attraction at the park on Sunday.

JOLLY TARS TO SEE GOOD SCRAPS

T. R. Davis has been doing some hopping around similar to that of the hen when she stepped onto a hot griddle.

The reason for this burst of speed on Davis' part is that he is rusting up some crack boxing stunts for next Saturday night at the Orpheum Theater.

After working hard for two days, scouring the British cruisers for participants, he has finally got together some good, speedy men who promise to trounce their rivals to the best of "tar" ability.

There will be about six events pulled off—the main event and five preliminaries—and all promise to make "Rome howl" and fur fly. Rivalry is keen between the two men-of-war, so don't expect to see the miffs hanging idle in the ring Saturday night.

On the contrary, expect to see them very much in evidence, flying through the air like balls thrashing the other tar's map.

MAUI WILL HAVE GREAT DOINGS

There will be big doings in sport on Maui this Fourth of July.

The horse races and marathon race are the big attractions. For the horse races there are about twenty-five entries, and the Kahului track will be a busy one. It is now in perfect condition. The grandstand has been fitted out to hold more people and moved to a place where the dust will not annoy the spectators.

A large crowd of people from Honolulu will make the trip over to Maui tomorrow. About forty yachtsmen of the Hawaii Yacht Club will be at Kahului on the Fourth and expect to have a grand time while on the Valley Isle. O'Rourke will have his usual string of horses at the track and will no doubt carry off many of the prizes.

The Lahaina-Wailuku marathon run, under the auspices of the Maui Athletic Association, is looked upon as an exciting event. Only amateurs are allowed to compete.

There will be boxing bouts at Wailuku Saturday night, and the main go will be between De Mello and George Engle; (on rounds. There are to be two preliminaries. The Maui sports are highly pleased over the arranging of the De Mello-Engle bout for Saturday night, as they were first matched to box in Hilo.

A special excursion trip will be made from Honolulu to Maui for the Fourth, and a large crowd has already booked.

JEFFRIES IN PARIS BUT AVOIDS CORONATION

PARIS, June 14.—James J. Jeffries, former champion heavyweight, arrived here this afternoon, the picture of health. To a correspondent who asked him if he was having a good time, Jeffries said that he never really enjoyed himself away from Los Angeles. He is not going to the coronation, he said, because he hates crowds, and not because of the fact that Jack Johnson, who defeated him at Reno, is still in London.

It would be an interesting event if the soldiers of the different forts held an annual track meet. There are many fast men at the posts.

ATHLETIC PARK IMPROVEMENT

The management of the Athletic Park is getting things into shape for the coming fifteen-mile race Sunday between Fitzgerald and King, and also for the Kelo series.

One of the important steps taken by the management is in regard to the deadheads who make a practice of watching the games from the Chinese clubhouses on the right of the park. With the opening of the Kelo series, large screens are to be erected, which will cut off the view of those who would see the ball games free.

These clubhouses each held about a hundred deadheads during the Waseda series last year, and as there are three houses which have such balconies, a total of about three hundred Chinese ball fans watch the games from the outside each Sunday.

It is something awful to behold sometimes, as it looks as if the whole balcony would fall through, as it is packed like sardines, and the supports are not very strong.

These screens will be hoisted in a few days and will rise about thirty feet above the ground. This will stop the rubber-necks for some time. Now this bunch will either have to pay 25 cents to see the games or stay away.

Steps are also being taken to put a roof on the bleachers at the Ewa side of the park. During the Kelo series all the gates will be opened after the games are over. As it is now, only one gate is opened when the games are over.

The track is being put in the best of condition for the race which is to be pulled off on Sunday. The men are packing the track, so that there will be some spring to it when the men run.

Fitzgerald stated a few days ago that the track was dead and that it was not good to run on at the time, but he will find a good track to run on when he meets King Sunday afternoon.

The Kelo ball tossers will find a swell diamond to play on when they get here. The grass is growing well around the inside field.

Ireland has a population of 4,381,955, according to the census returns made public recently. This is a decrease of 76,824 since the last census was taken ten years ago.
